

The Department of Psychology at the University of Mary Washington invites applications for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning August 16, 2010. The successful candidate must have expertise in the Biological Basis of Behavior and must have a Ph.D. in Psychology by the start date.

Candidates must be prepared to teach service courses such as General Psychology, have a willingness to teach statistics and research methods in Psychology, and be prepared to teach additional courses of interest in the area of the Biological Basis of Behavior (e.g., psychopharmacology, physiological psychology, neuroscience, or others). Candidates must have a strong commitment to teaching undergraduates and directing undergraduates in internships and independent research.

Submit letter of application, vita, statement of teaching and research interests including how you would involve undergraduates in your research endeavors, and any materials that show evidence of effective teaching (e.g., syllabi, sample assignments, sample exams, teaching evaluations, etc.) electronically to <https://careers.umw.edu> position # F00181.

Graduate transcripts, three letters of recommendation that specifically address teaching expertise and experience, and other materials not available in electronic format should be mailed to Dr. Jennifer Mailloux, Search Chair, Department of Psychology, University of Mary Washington, 1301 College Ave., Fredericksburg, VA 22401.

Deadline for receipt of materials is 5 PM, November 13, 2009. Postmarks will not be honored. Send e-mail inquiries to jmaillou@umw.edu.

The University and department are particularly interested in receiving applications from members of underrepresented groups. In a continuing effort to enrich its academic environment and provide equal educational and employment opportunities, University of Mary Washington actively encourages women, minorities, disabled individuals, and veterans to apply. For more information about our department and this position see <http://psyc.umwchandler.net/>